DAY TRIP

ARTS & CRAFT BREWS

HOME.GROWN.GREAT.

Enjoy this trail at your leisure. Pick and choose what sounds great to you. Get creative with pottery, painting or appreciating art displays while trying some of the craft brews throughout the county. See what art and brews await you in Miami County.

PIQUA

Located in the heart of Piqua is the town's historic gem, the beautifully restored Fort Piqua Plaza. This is an architectural treasure that was restored to the 1914 remodeled era of the hotel. Previously known and beloved as the Fort Piqua Hotel, it was transformed into a spectacular multi-use community building. Enjoy the magnificent lobby with the perfectly restored stained glass windows, breathtaking skylight and an opportunity to appreciate the well-worn gray Tennessee marble grand staircase. The library boasts a large history collection as well as genealogical research resources and historical displays from Piqua and the Northern Miami Valley. The second floor houses a Piqua art gallery as well as visitor friendly Local History Department containing items from the local museum placed throughout the building among other exhibits.

Moeller Brew Barn, with its original location in Maria Stein, Ohio, has opened up a second location in downtown Troy. Housed in a beautiful former church with stained glass windows and church pews, it's easy to order a beer on tap and get lost in the details of it all. This is a great place to try different seasonal beers on tap and delicious foods.
